

THE FUTURE OF SHOWER GLASS PROTECTION

Experience the Diamon-Fusion® difference.

What is Diamon-Fusion protective coating?

Diamon-Fusion is an optically clear, protective coating that transforms ordinary glass into a high-performing, hydrophobic surface. By chemically bonding with the silica in glass, Diamon-Fusion fills in the microscopic peaks and valleys of the surface creating an ultra-thin barrier resistant to staining, etching and corrosion.

Fused on the glass via machine application

Utilizing DFI's automated FuseCube™ protective coating machine, Diamon-Fusion is fused onto both sides of the shower enclosure. The low maintenance coating is applied through a chemical vapor deposition, ensuring optimum coverage, superior quality and maximum value.

Complete customer care

Diamon-Fusion treated shower doors come with a lifetime warranty that can be registered at dfisolutions.com/warranty. Once registered, DFI handles everything. That includes taking all your customer callbacks, as well as sending automated emails on how to care for and maximize their Diamon-Fusion treated shower enclosures.

Double-sided coverage, single-sided price

Get twice the shower door protection for the single-sided price. The FuseCube applies Diamon-Fusion on both sides of the shower glass, providing twice the protection for your consumers, as well as a new differentiator and increased market share for your business.

Eliminates backward installations

Through machine controlled application, Diamon-Fusion is applied to both sides of the shower glass, ensuring uniform coverage and no backward installations. The result: faster, more confident installations with consistent coverage.

Marketing that works as hard as you do

How does having a full-time marketing team without the associated costs sound? With in-store promotional items for you and personalized automated emails to educate your customers upon registering their Diamon-Fusion warranty, DFI will build your brand and help you sell.
